

Free article marketing report helps online Marketers increase traffic and profits

Tony Gregson, co-owner of Articlefacility.com is pleased to announce their new service at the web site. An article marketing report including an e-course is offered for free to marketers and online Entrepreneurs.

The article marketing report and traffic generating e-course are excellent tools for online Entrepreneurs who wish to explore this opportunity. "The goal of these services is to give interested users the convenience to learn how to use this exiting way of info marketing effectively" said Tony Gregson. "Many online marketers think that Article Marketing is a waste of time that they get little or nothing in return of".

The short cut Article Marketing Report is, as the name imply, "short" but reveals little or unknown techniques that is highly effective when it comes to generating desired results. It explains how to get your articles read, writing resource boxes that generate Internet traffic, and using Article Marketing to boost traffic and earnings. The e-Course takes it a step further by looking at other traffic sources and in combination with Article Marketing. One part is dedicated to why Viral Marketing is so crucial to online businesses.

"No traffic mean no profit" said Tony Gregson. "Targeted Internet traffic is the key to success and should be every webmasters main focus". These new services will also help Entrepreneurs to shift focus and increase profits when they know how to do it. "The biggest Bonus is that the short cut Article Report is free" Tony Gregson concluded with a smile.

About the Author

For more information about the report and e-Course visit: <http://service.articlefacility.com/>

Source: <http://wisdomwriters.articlefacility.com>